Dear clerks/chairs/local councillors

Recent legislation (including a new Planning Policy Framework) will mean that the Council can now start thinking about how to actively prepare for a new Local Plan for Cornwall. The national changes will mean change for both the Local Plan and Neighbourhood Planning. Work will also be carried out in February to refresh our understanding of land potentially available for development, otherwise known as a Call for Sites.

To help Local Councils and Neighbourhood Planning Groups understand the changes, implications and what actions are needed, we have arranged a planning training event for Local Councils on Weds 28 February, 4.00-5.30 pm. We will also include an update on other planning changes coming from the Levelling Up and Regeneration Act (LURA) and updated National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF).

We would like to invite all local councils to join us on Weds 28 February 2024, 4.00-5.30: Preparing for a new Local Plan for Cornwall. This will be an online event via Teams and the link to join is below:
