Subject: Community Governance Review changes – planning application consultations

Information Classification: CONTROLLED

Dear Local Council

Notice to local councils affected by the Community Governance Review changes – planning application consultations

With reference to the above changes which are expected to be in place by 1st April, we wanted to clarify our consultation arrangements for planning applications.

If there are no changes to your existing parish council then you will continue to be consulted on planning applications as normal.

If there are changes to your parish area then we will continue to consult the existing local council for the parish area on all applications prior to 1st April. For all applications registered after 1st April we will consult the new local council for the parish area. In order to be aware of any ongoing applications for the transitional period, it is recommended that all local councils who will be affected by the changes should register the 'never miss a planning application' at Online planning register - Cornwall Council to capture any new parish areas coming under your local council. If you wish to make comments on an application which was registered prior to 1st April and is within a parish that will be coming under your local council once the changes take place, please do contact the case officer to register your comments.

Specific arrangements have been agreed with the respective Cornwall Councillors for the 5 existing local councils who will technically form new local councils (Tregony, Cuby, St Teath (with Delabole), St Buryan and Paul) and separate communications will be sent to those parish councils to clarify those arrangements.
