Dear Clerks to Parish and Town councils in Cornwall,

You and all your parishioners are warmly invited to join our Climate Skills with Creativity Course, designed not just for beginners, but for those who think they've got it covered. It's a 2-day course, spread over 4 days, nearly all on-line. And it's FREE! (Please see attached poster)

This course is exclusively designed for Cornwall residents. It offers something that even seasoned professionals have found eye-opening. In a short time, with strong support, you'll experience just how much can be achieved - and what you may still be missing. Plus, there's the bonus of an enjoyable, meaningful qualification.

Most importantly, you'll gain practical, shareable tools to help others - friends, family, and your wider community become more prepared, more resilient, and better equipped for the extreme local weather events that are now an inevitable part of our future.

If you're ready to challenge what you think you know and grow from it, book your place now via the link below.

To give you confidence: 6 senior officers from 3 different Risk Management Authorities have already taken part — and found it hugely valuable. One of their testimonials is below, with more on the course webpage.

Several start dates available.

Hope to see you there,

Kind regards,

Accessibility & Support

No prior experience needed.

Tools required: Zoom & internet.

Be sure to book all three parts via Eventbrite: (1) course, (2) graduation & (3) 1:1 session.

Graduation offers a valuable opportunity for networking and meaningful conversations. It's a time when many graduates connect with peers and industry experts, exchanging contact details and ideas. As you reflect on your course experience and apply your local insights, you'll find that this setting sparks fresh, innovative thinking.
