Cornwall Community Flood Forum Annual Conference (7 November 2025)

We have been asked to highlight your opportunity to attend the above conference:

- You can register for the conference via this link: <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/cornwall-community-flood-forum-annual-conference-2025-tickets-1586842541759>
- You can also do this via the CCF website:
<https://www.cornwallcommunityfloodforum.org.uk/2025-conference/>
- Full details of the conference are provided at the above links, but here is a summary:

“Our conference will be held in the Pavilion Centre at the Royal Cornwall Showground in Wadebridge. Alternatively, you are welcome to join us virtually for a morning of engaging talks from a variety of speakers on all things flooding. We encourage as many as people as possible to join us in person as you will be able to view the various stands and network throughout the day, as well as take part in interactive workshops. Free refreshments and lunch will be provided for all those attending in person.

The theme for this years' conference is 'Preparing for a changing environment, how what we do now shapes our tomorrow', of which we are delighted to offer speakers from a wide range of organisations. The morning will be split into two sessions.

The first session will focus on community response to flooding and other emergencies. Our keynote speaker, Niki Glew (Teignbridge District Council) will start the day. We will also be lucky enough to hear from Richard Teeuw (the University of Portsmouth) and Bude Community Flood Group.

The second session will focus on resilience to coastal change. We will hear from Dafydd Thomas (Network Rail), Jolyon Sharpe (Making Space for Sand project) and the community in Porthtowan, who we have been working with on the project.

After the lunch break, those of you joining us in person will be able to participate in interactive workshops.”

With kind regards
Lisa
